

GOD, Religion & Intelligence

To Understand God,
One does not need great intelligence.

God is most simple.
To understand god, you need simplicity at heart.

Complicated men won't understand Him.

While intelligence is not a drawback to understand Him, if the intelligence ravel in unnecessary complications, the man cannot achieve God.

If the religious books look like difficult to understand;

It is not because they are very complex. None of these books need great intelligence to understand.

They seem difficult because their concepts are unacceptable to us.

They say, "Love everyone". We find it difficult to love so many people in our home, office, train etc.

They say "Honesty is the best policy". We accept the statement but cannot be honest in our life.

Our ego & our weaknesses make us incapable of understanding religion. And we say that religion is difficult. For a simple man, religion & God, both are very simple concepts.

Inspired by Mr. N. K. Bhat.

Written by Rashmin
4/8/99.